

Senior Procurement and Supply chain Management Expert – SE Asia

ResultsinHealth is currently looking for a part-time independent Senior Procurement and Supply Management (PSM) Expert who is experienced in assessing grants and systems to procure and manage health commodities in multiple countries, based in South-East Asia.

ResultsinHealth has major responsibilities for PSM oversight activities in over 50 countries, through a collaborative agreement with PricewaterhouseCoopers and the Global Fund to Fight AIDS, Tuberculosis and Malaria for LFA services. Products procured under Global Fund grants include pharmaceuticals, diagnostics, lab materials, medical equipment, PPE, and preventive materials such as long-lasting insecticide treated nets and condoms. Our mission is to ensure their rational forecast, purchase, distribution and use throughout the health system by assisting implementing partners, governments and donors with reviews and recommendations.

Responsibilities

Assessments relate to the full cycle of product selection, quantification of needs, procurement, quality assurance, storage, distribution, inventory management, and their appropriate use. Experts will assess and monitor PSM and LMIS systems, with the aim of ensuring best practices and risk minimization for the Global Fund grants. Activities may involve onsite assessment visits, as well as desk reviews of PSM related planning and monitoring documentation.

The Senior PSM Expert will be asked to collaborate and provide quality-assurance review for Jr PSM Experts working locally in some portfolios.

The profile

Successful candidates have a university degree in pharmacy, in health, or in a related area, and several years of experience in international procurement and supply chain management of health products, including extensive knowledge of public sector operations. Training in health product procurement, international tendering, supply chain management are desirable, as is experience in the management and implementation of HIV/AIDS, Tuberculosis, Malaria and COVID-19 control programmes in developing countries in South-East Asia.

Prior experience working with the Global Fund, UN agencies or other international development partners is desired. Though please note the LFA apply a strict 3-year Conflict of Interest policy that forbids consideration of experts having recently worked on GF grants or related activities. Excellent English proficiency is a key requirement. Estimated annual LOE is 70-150 days.

Application procedure

To apply, please fill out the registration form on our website www.resultsinhealth.org and upload:

- Cover Letter (max. 1 page), carefully describing your ability to meet the essential requirements, including names and contact details of at least two professional references and indicate the requested daily fee in USD;
- Curriculum Vitae (max. 3 pages).

The closing date for sending your application is 15 January 2022.

To learn more about this opportunity, please contact Cédric Mingat by e-mail (mingatc@resultsinhealth.org). Additional information on ResultsinHealth can be found on the website www.resultsinhealth.org.

 Acquisition as a result of this advertisement is not appreciated ***